AUTUMN RESIDENCY 2013

from here you could now clearly see the singular motion of the people as they moved in one direction, while a few straggled up and down the little lanes radiating from the centre, always the concentric rings of the broad streets, they travelled one way only.

GILLIAN STEEL

*filled with the light which filtered in
through the coloured
windows it was a sub-
aquatic pool in which you felt weightless and warmly cocooned from the outside world.
Moving slowly as if
bound by the physical constraints of moving through water*
